

CARAVAN OF THIEVES:

The Caravan of Thieves combines folk, with gypsy flare and jazz in a modern way, using instruments – like guitars and fiddles – that you might not expect a group of musicians in their 20s to master.

And, they're making an impression on audiences throughout the country.

Ben Dean's on the violin. Fuzz and Carrie Sangiovanni are singers and acoustic guitarists. Brian Anderson's the double bassist.

This fancy foursome has a notable resume that consists of music available on iTunes, a new CD called "Bouquet" and a tour schedule that takes them all over the country.

SEE THEM: The Caravan Thieves will perform in Fairfield on Oct. 30 and 31 at the FTC on Stage One at 7:30 p.m.

So take a listen to some of their latest work. We can pretty much guarantee you'll be impressed.
